GAMES YESTERDAY. Chicago, 15; Pittsburg, 14.

GAMES TODAY. Washington at Baltimore, Beston at Brooklyn, Philadelphia at New York,

Four more struggles on the historie Union Park Clamond of the Monumental City and the baseball season of 1897 will be a matter of Matory. The beginning of the end will be inaugurated this afternoon, when the Senators cross bats with Hanlon's heart-broken "Birds" for the closing series of the year.

Manager Tom Brown and his band of warriors reached home yesterday morning. They were in great spirits over their victory of Monday over New York, and were supremely confident of taking two out of the four games scheduled with the Baltimore aggregation.

Brown was apparently very well satisfied with the work done by the team wide away from home. He claimed that hard luck played a very prominent part in most of the games lost. The men, as a that do their work so surely and terriA careful study of many thousand stead of in Gotham. Such an arrangement would give the game at Eastern Park a clear field. As it is, the show at the Trolley Dodgers' grounds will probably draw most of the fans from New York, and Mr. Andsew Freedman will have his own troubles in the boxeffice at the Pole

The League magnates will have an op at the annual meeting. President Barthas pared a measure that he thinks will do away with this obnoxious feature of the game. It is to be hoped that he will be able to convince his colleagues that the salvation of the pational game depends upon quick and decisive measures. If President Hart is successful in carrying out his idea of reclaiming the game from then try to devise some means to eradi deo. "Farming" is killing the game, is rathous to the minor leagues, as it de-prives them of the services of valuable men at the very stage of the race they, themselves, need their services.
